DEMOCRATS should not be lured into staying at home on the 2nd day of November. It's a duty every member owes to his party and to the nominee to go to the polls and vote that day.

A FORMER student of Harvard College has sued that institution for $50,000 damage, for injuries sustained by the explosion of a retort containing sulphuric acid. He was terribly burned and permanently disfigured in the face by the explosion, which he claims was the result of carelessness on the part of one of the professors.

JUDGE THOMAS' "wire-workers" and henchmen are quietly arranging for the election at every point in the district. Thomas' seeming indifference is only to create the belief among the Democrats that he is not running and thus induce many to stay away from the polls on the 2nd of November. Democrats should not be deceived, but turn out to a man on the day of the election.

A Plain Answer Wanted to a Plain Question.

Our friend, Thomas A. Davis, very warmly espouses the cause of George M. Thomas as a candidate for Congress. Is George M. Thomas as a candidate for Congress a better man than George M. Thomas as a candidate for Circuit Judge? To be more plain, Mr. Davis, did you not refuse to vote for George M. Thomas for Circuit Judge in 1880, alleging as a reason that he was too corrupt a man to be re-elected? Will you give a plain answer to a plain question?—Flemingburg Times-Democrat.

The Only Wise Course.

Let not the Democrats of this, the Ninth congressional district of Kentucky, be deceived. Judge Thomas is making the race. All his seeming apathy and indifference about publicly accepting the nomination is for a purpose. In this way he hopes to create the impression among the Democrats that their nominee has no opposition, knowing, if he can succeed in doing this, that many of them will not consider it necessary to go to the polls the 2nd day of November and vote. This is the scheme. Secretly he and his gang of tricksters are industriously at work in the precincts and counties throughout the district, and it will not be Thomas' fault if the full Republican vote is not polled the 2nd day of next month. The Democrats should not allow themselves to be fooled. The only safe course to pursue, the only wise plan to follow, is for every Democrat to turn out on the 2nd of November and vote for the nominee of his party, whether there be any opposition or not.

Davis' Inconsistency.

The Republican Enterprise is ardently supporting Judge Thomas for Congress. It is owned and edited by Thomas A. Davis. How Mr. Davis can consistently do this, we fail to see, in view of past events.

In 1880, Thomas was a candidate for Circuit Judge against Hon. A. E. Cole. He had served six years as Judge, and was a candidate for re-election. There was nothing in that six years official career of his to commend him to the people. The reverse was true. He had drawn his salary right along, but had failed to attend strictly to the discharge of his duties as Judge. The State was compelled to pay out $3,176 in the six years for special judges. Thomas was the nominee of the Republican party at that time for Circuit Judge, just as he is the nominee of that party now for Congress. Notwithstanding the fact that Thomas was the Republican nominee at that time, Mr. Davis, the present owner and editor of the Republican Enterprise, didn't favor his re-election. Mr. Davis was opposed to him and voted against him, as is shown by the following letter:

Mr. Will J. Kehoe, Curdsville, Ky., June 22, 1880.
Yours of the 21st duly at hand, and contents noted. That my answer may not be considered ambiguous, I will say that I am so much opposed to the re-election of George M. Thomas to the Circuit Judgeship that I will vote for A. E. Cole for that office. As I have opposed the connection of politics with the judiciary, I feel that this step in no way compromises what you are pleased to term my "straight Republican record." My reasons for opposing Mr. Thomas are entirely satisfactory to myself, and, as they are more of a private than a public nature, their recital would be of little interest to the general reader. Thanking you for the flattering attention to my services in behalf of the Republican party in this district, and renewing my pledge to Mr. Cole in the coming contest, I am, very truly, your friend.
THOMAS A. DAVIS.

Mr. Davis didn't give his reasons for opposing Judge Thomas, but he opposed him all the same, and, we understand, voted against him. If Mr. Davis didn't consider Mr. Thomas a fit man for Circuit Judge, we fail to see how he can consistently support him now for Congressman. Perhaps he can explain.

Thomas, as Circuit Judge.

Judge Thomas, the present Republican nominee for Congress, was elected Circuit Judge of this district in 1874, and served one term of six years. In these six years, he was often absent from his post of duty necessitating the selection of special judges. The certificate of the Auditor, Fayette Hewitt, shows that the State was compelled to pay $3,176 during Thomas' term by his failure to attend to the office—$3,176 for special judges, for work Mr. Thomas was paid to attend to. He cost the people of the State seven years salary for six years work. His plea at the time was that he was "sick" and couldn't attend his courts, but he was not too sick to be running around over the district at that time attending to other business. He was never too sick to draw his salary. "Politics with him is business," as he himself says. Do the people of this district want such a man as Thomas to represent them in Congress? We believe they are sick of this "grand, old war horse" from Lewis County.

Thomas, the Great Deceived.

This is the title by which George M. Thomas will be hereafter known. Three times he has been defeated in less than six months—once before his own President and twice before the people. The third time charms, and now he is completely snowed under. The virtue and intelligence of the people have triumphed over money.—WEEKLY BULLETIN, Nov. 11, 1880.

Fall Fashion Notes.

Beaded velvet bonnets are worn with dressy frocks. Breasts of birds form the entire sides of some fancy capotes.

Applique galleons trim many handsome cloth and wool dresses.

Very small pokes are worn by young women, married and single.

Two sets of strings are seen again on bonnets, one wide, the other narrow. All sorts of novel bows are used to form the high bonnet trimmings of this season.

Plain velvet hats and bonnets are considered correct wear with dressy tailor suits.

There is a return of favor to dressed kid gloves, but undressed kids are also worn.

Some of the new capote brims are cloth, and have one side strapped back with ribbons.

A London authority holds that a pinch of sugar is an improvement to white sauces.

Celery sauce, the kind that comes in bottles, is a decided improvement on mutton chops.

Sweet potatoes baked in the juice of roast beef are delicious and a favorite Southern dish.

Golden rods in large wicker baskets, tied up with blue ribbons, was the only flower decoration at a grand ball lately.

In wall paper, the acme of elegance has been reached this season, and the opportunities for making the "house beautiful" are greater than ever.

DA. CAPO.

She sat with her hands on the trembling lines, And tried to turn the music into play. I felt the thrilling of her eyes.

My heart by her music stayed: But love is unconquerable force. And I the strain she was playing, when She so sweetly noted the musical signs—

Da Capo—begin over again. The song she renewed—oh, the Crocan spell And magical charm of her potent art. I bent over her cheek, and I dared to tell I loved her so.

Till we both forgot all mutual love. And she kissed me, sweet, so ardently then, I could not repeat what she said before— Da Capo—begin over again.

VANISHING OF A LADY.

Wonderful Trick by a London Conjurer, Done Without Leaving the Stage. Perhaps the best merit of a conjurer is the ability to devise new illusions; and this merit Boutier de Kolta possesses in a high degree. His latest trick is the vanishing of a lady. It is the most startling and effective illusion which has been produced since the Sphinx originally astonished and delighted the world a score of years ago or more. Boutier de Kolta is now performing this trick at the Eden theatre, in Paris, with so great success that he has been compelled to postpone his promised visit to London, where he had intended appearing at the Egyptian hall during the autumn tour of Messrs. Maskelyne & Cooke.

This trick was brought to England by M. Verbeck, who did it last year at the Piccadilly hall; but Mr. Boutier accomplishes it without the aid of an assistant and without resort to the stage contrivances of a large newspaper which he unfolds in the center of the stage to cut off communication with any possible trap door. On this newspaper he places the lady. In the chair, a young lady, who crosses her hands in her lap over her lace handkerchief. After she has apparently been rendered insensible by inhalation, Mr. Boutier produces an enormous black silk handkerchief, about five feet wide by seven feet long. This he brings down to the audience to show that it is not in any way prepared, and the spectator can see that the silk stuff is thin enough to be translucent. With this filmy shawl Mr. Boutier completely covers the young lady, carefully adjusting it to the floor, and as carefully tying it behind her head.

When all has been done regularly and in order, and there is only to be seen the figure of the young lady as she sits in the chair, enshrouded in the black veil, Mr. Boutier suddenly sets free the young lady, who disappears from his hands at once. The young lady has vanished; the chair stands there empty, save that there remains on the seat the lace handkerchief she had held in her fingers; it has fallen from the touch of a vanished hand. Amid the applause which this feat elicits, Boutier calmly steps forth. Mr. Boutier steps to the door at the side of the stage and leads on again the young lady who vient de disparaitre.—Saturday Review.

Indian Green Corn Dances.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 11.—The annual green corn dance of the Tonawanda Indian reservation, three miles from the village of Akron, O., was held Friday forenoon. An old time war dance was the program, in which all the old Indians and squaws participated. They were all dressed in war paint and feathers and had their drums and tom-toms in good shape. Only the Fagan Indians celebrate these holidays. A great crowd of whites were present, many coming from a long distance to witness the novel celebration. The horrible yelling of some of the old chiefs struck terror to the hearts of the lady spectators. The war and squaw dances will continue today and will wind up Sunday night with a pow-wow. The other reservations will begin as soon as the signs of their tribe come right.

An Unprovoked Murder.

CHALMERS, Va., Oct. 11.—Intelligence has just reached here of an unfortunate tragedy in Raleigh county, the circumstances of which are as follows: Henry H. Harper, a prominent merchant and the wealthiest man in the county, had in his employ a young man by the name of John Nemo. This son Nemo came to the store to get a suit of clothes which Harper promised to give him. Harper being somewhat intoxicated, became enraged at a fancied insult, and shot Nemo without warning, three times, one ball striking him in the region of the heart, from which he died in a few hours. As Harper belongs to the best families, it is a very sad case.

Colonizing the Negroes.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 11.—Col. Alex Jones, colored, is in the city, and will spend several weeks in the state. He says there is an organization in Washington, D. C., that has been formed within the last two months for the purpose of directing an exodus of colored people from the south. The plan is to locate the emigrants in colonies of about twenty-five whenever desirable and suitable locations can be found. Col. Jones says the work will be conducted systematically and persistently until all who want to come north have done so.

No Tidings From the Missing Schooner.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Up to noon no tidings had been received of the missing steamer, Anchora, and the opinion that she has gone down seems to be gaining ground. Though there is very good hope for her safety. Some years ago one of the Canard liners was forty-one days overdue, and yet arrived in port in safety. The number of inquiries at the consular office was larger than it has been any previous day. None of the incoming steamers reported sighting her.

A Town Treasurer's Shortage.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The World's Pittsfield, Mass., special correspondent reports that the town treasurer of that town has a few hundred dollars over $50,000. It is said that the treasurer is a defaulter, and that the town is a defalcation or misappropriation of the funds. The treasurer's yearly bonds as town treasurer have also mysteriously disappeared.

Mysterious Disappearance.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—James H. Blauvelt, a wealthy Quaker and member of one of the oldest families of this city, has disappeared. He is said to have worried greatly over the loss of his money and his health. His friends think that he is temporarily deranged and that he has wandered away. They claim that his fortune is nearly intact. Some of his creditors have obtained attachments on his bank accounts.

Cluverous Sentenced to Hang.

OUR NEWS FROM THE EAST

COLLAPSE OF THE "NO RENT" MOVEMENT IN IRELAND.

A Good Harvest and Better Prices Gradually Improving the Condition of the Irish Tenant-Biography of a Dramatic Plot-Preparing a New Land Bill.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The government professes to be fully receiving ample evidence that the "no rent" movement in Ireland is collapsing, thanks to the good harvest, the improved prices, the farmers are receiving for their stock of butter and the weariness consequent upon the agitation. They cite an instance in Roscommon where James O'Kaley, the Nationalist member for that district, and J. K. Cox, the member for Clare, started a "no rent" movement last Sunday. Now, they say, even the land league branches there are sending deputations to the landlords, the priests leading the petitioners, praying for reductions in rents and promising that if their requests are granted the tenants will then pay the reduced rents.

A Catholic mission house for training African missionaries will be started in Munster, Germany, in 1887. A large fund has already been subscribed for its maintenance, and everything points to the success of the undertaking. Rev. Father Ambrin Reichenbach has been selected to act as conductor of the institution.

An Anarchist Plot.

VIENNA, Oct. 11.—It is learned that the authorities discovered and frustrated a startling Anarchist plot, which was to have culminated last Monday in the destruction by dynamite of a number of the chief public buildings of this city and the burning of many other structures. A number of bombs intended to be used in this work were seized by the police. Some of the bombs had already been placed in positions, the bridge leading to the palace, which is daily resorted to by the emperor. Among the persons arrested for complicity in the burning of several foreigners and a number of native Austrians.

Preparing a Bill for Ireland.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The Daily News is able to state that the government is now preparing a bill to establish for Ireland a national council to represent the provinces of Ireland. The bill differs from Mr. Gladstone's measure chiefly in omission of a legislative body at Dublin. Otherwise it fully meets the aspirations of the Home Rulers in regard to transferring to local bodies the direction of Irish affairs now dealt with at Westminster.

Charged With Erecting Huts.

ENGLAND, Oct. 11.—In the court of petty sessions, at New Market, the Hon. Mr. Justice, net, chairman of the Emsie board of guardians, and six other gentlemen who have identified themselves with the Nationalist movement, were committed for trial, charged with unlawfully causing the erection of huts on the land of several landlords who were having trouble with the tenants, their object being to intimidate the proprietors. They were released on bail.

Difficulty of Enforcing Evictions.

DUBLIN, Oct. 11.—While the eviction of a farmer named Tromor, living near Millburn, Mal, was in progress, the neighbors of Tromor gathered in force and made a desperate attack on the evicting party. An emergency man was sent to the scene by the land by the blow of stone thrown by one of the attacking party. Two arrests were made.

Secretary White Coming Home.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The secretary of the American Legation, his wife and family started for Liverpool, and will sail in the steamship Umbria for the United States on a several weeks' leave of absence. Many members of the diplomatic corps were at the depot and bid Secretary White adieu.

Death of Two Parliamentarians.

BERLIN, Oct. 11.—The death of Prince Salm Salm is announced. He was born in 1814, and he is a member of the upper house. Announcement is also made of the death of Assessor Lang. He was born in 1815, and was one of the last survivors of the Frankfurt parliament.

Forming a New Ministry.

MADRID, Oct. 11.—Senator Sagasta, acting under the queen's orders, is reforming the ministry.

London Notes.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The importance attached to Lord Randolph Churchill's visit to Germany is illusory. Lord Churchill's sole aim is to recruit his health, which has been somewhat impaired by overwork. The cotton trade at Bolton is very much depressed. Four mills have shut down altogether, and two-thirds of the others, employing over 12,000 hands, are working but three days in the week.

"LUMBER AUCTION COMPANY."

A Firm Starting With a Great Flourish on Overdrawn Bank Accounts.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Latimer E. Jones, the controlling spirit of the recently established "Lumber Auction Company," is in financial trouble. The company was started with a great flourish, and its dashing methods, trucked there to the heads of conservative lumber merchants, and threatened to ruin their old fogey trade. The offices of the concern in Eleventh avenue were fitted up in elegance, regardless of expense. Jones, who is not thirty years of age, was credited with unlimited wealth.

Suddenly it turned out that his bank account was overdrawn, sheriffs have seized his household effects and are threatening the property of the Lumber Auction Company. A wealthy lawyer named London Jones, who had taken a great fancy to the brilliant young financier, has endorsed his paper largely, and is said to be responsible for part of the $350,000 worth of notes that Jones is supposed to have discounted. It is also said to have been found that most of this paper is fictitious, having been made up in the names of persons and firms that never existed.

Boston's New Postmaster.—NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Gen. Corne was at the Murray Hill hotel last night. He said to a reporter that he was not prepared to say in the absence of official knowledge of his appointment to the Boston postmastership, whether he would accept or decline it. The only interest he felt in the matter was to solicit the appointment for a friend, who, however, had declined it. Gen. Corne returns to Boston to-day.
